LABOR READY FOR ELECTION; WILL DEFEND SOVIET PACT

Party Prepared For Test At Polls, Says Leader

PLANS COMPLETE

Vigorous Defense Of Russ Treaties Proposed

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 2.—With reference to the talk of an impending general election, a Labor official, interviewed by Reuter today, said that the party was ready. The Labor organisation was at the highest pitch of perfection. The Party would vigorously defend the Anglo-Russian Treaties.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 2.—Reuter's lobby correspondent says that there is a strong belief tonight that the Government will be defeated on the Conservative vote of censure on October 8 and that a general election will follow. Nevertheless, in the event of defeat, all the parties would probably agree to pass the Irish Bill.

While the Government is considering what course to adopt, it is not believed, however, that Mr. MacDonald will resign. Political opinion is emphatic that he would appeal to the country on Labor's handling of foreign affairs and on its program relating to domestic affairs.

Later.—An unexpected development of the political situation has occurred owing to the tabling of a Liberal amendment in the name of Sir John Simon to the Conservative vote of censure, proposing the appointment of a select committee to investigate and report on the circumstances leading to the withdrawal of the proceedings in connection with Mr. Campbell of the Workers' Weekly.

Sir John Simon was one of the Government's foremost critics when the subject was discussed in the House of Commons on September 30.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 2.—In a speech at the Unionist Conference, at Newcastle, Mr. Baldwin roundly condemned the Russian Treaty, and said that he was determined to do all in his power to prevent the proposed loan ever becoming an accomplished fact. Belief in an immense Russian trade was an illusion.

CHINESE EASTERN BOARD CHOSEN BY SOVIET, MUKDEN

Railway Headquarters May Be Shifted From Harbin To Mukden

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Mukden, Oct. 2.—Soviet Russia and Marshal Chang Tso-lin have appointed five directors each of the Chinese Eastern Railway, who will proceed to Harbin for a conference under the Director-General, Mr. Pao Kwei-ching, who is suggesting transfer of the C. E. R. Headquarters from Barbin to Mukden.

A branch of the Soviet Far Eastern Bank is being opened here.

The agreement between the Soviet and Marshal Chang Tso-lin, according to Russian authorities, shortens the term of the concession of the C. E. R. to 1963 and also recognises the agreement between the Soviet and the Peking Government.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 3.—The Ministry of Foreign Affairs yesterday telegraphed a protest to Moscow concerning the conclusion of the Soviet-Mukden Agreement, on the ground that it was contrary to international practice for a friendly Power to enter into an agreement with a local official without the assent of the Government concerned. It was pointed out, moreover, that Chang Tso-lin had already been declared a rebel when the agreement was signed, and it was added that the Central Government would never recognise such an agreement.

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, Oct. 2.—M. Karakhan. Soviet Envoy, having so far failed to reply to the protest lodged with him by the Waichiaopu on September 25 concerning the Fengtien-Soviet agreement, the Chinese Government today gave telegraphic instructions to Mr. Li Chia-ga, Chinese Envoy in Moscow, asking him to file a strong protest with the Soviet Government.

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, Oct. 2.—It is authoritatively reported that the Fengtien-Soviet agreement consists of seven articles in all, important items of which are (1) the Chinese Eastern Railway, (2) the navigation on the Sungari and Heilungkiang, (3) establishment of national boundaries, (4) prohibition of propaganda, and (5) appointment of commission within two months to settle various pending problems.

Chekiang Men Shot Down By Own Guns On Borders Of Fukien, Say Soldiers

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Hangchow, October 1.—Within the past few days the soldiers of the second division who were on the border of Fukien Province when General Sun Chuan-fang and his soldiers came in have been talking. They say their orders were to fraternise with the incoming troops, and treat them with every consideration. On the other hand, the troops of the first division did give fight to the Fukien troops and make an honest effort to turn them back. While their opposition was under way, acting still under orders the second division artillerymen turned their guns on their comrades in the first division. This ended the opposition to General Sun, and left many dead and wounded among the Chekiang soldiers, who had to shift as best they could for themselves.

There is no hesitancy on the part of the soldiers to say openly that they were acting under orders from their immediate commander, Wang Kao-kyi, and thus was Wu Ven-fun, immediate commander of the fight, and in turn his commander-in-chief, General Lu Yung-hsiang, put out of business in Chekiang.

Since the opportunity of learning the real facts, or some of them, and of sizing up the tattered, inadequately armed troops which came up from the southern border has come, one cannot but reflect that had Governor Lu sent five hundred, or certainly 1,000 of his troops up the river a little beyond Hangchow there would have been a different tale to tell, and certainly a different situation around Shanghai.

The first news to come from up the river was that Pan Kuo-kan had turned on General Lu, hence the hasty withdrawal of the General and his local forces from the capital to Shanghai where he could shorten his lines and dig in around the arsenal. One also wonders whether the situation can yet be retrieved. If Pan Kuo-kan swings the independence movement for the lower section of the province, and enough soldiers can be spared from Liuho, Huangtu, and the northern lines to come back and break through at Kashing, Chekiang will prove an easy victory.

In the meantime the people here are feeling the heel of their new masters. Fukien chopped dollars, Japanese Yen and coins of the Straits Settlement region are being forced on the shops, whose owners do not dare refuse them. The circulation of these depreciated coins was one of the conditions imposed by General Sun Chuan-fang before he left his "flagship" at Zakow, the gateway to the city. Another sign of the day is the jump in the price of the limited amount of local opium. Lack of communication with the outside world, and points not so far away, is causing much inconvenience to the opium smokers, whom the local newspapers cautiously report as suddenly increased in number, though they do not say where they came from.

APPROVAL OF ASSEMBLY IS GIVEN ARMS AGREEMENTS

Protocol Is Formally Adopted As Resolutions Are Passed

BOLT BY CHINESE

Delegation Leaves As Seats On Council Are Refused

(Reuter's Service)

Geneva, Oct. 2.—The Assembly today put their seal to an historic episode by unanimously adopting a series of resolutions formally launching the Protocol and urging Members to support the disarmament proposals. Forty-seven States voted. There were no abstentions.

Among the speakers prior to the voting was the Chinese delegate, who said that owing to the distance of his country he was unable to consult his Government with regard to the Protocol but the Delegation was prepared to vote for the resolutions adopting it and rejoiced in their ability to participate in this manifestation of human solidarity.

(Reuter's Service)

Geneva, Oct. 2.—Before the Assembly closed, Uruguay, Brazil, Czecho-Slovakia, Spain, Belgium and Sweden were elected non-permanent members of the Council, whereupon the Chinese Delegation left the Hall in a body. China secured 14 votes.

(Reuter's Service)

Geneva, Oct. 2.—The Chinese delegation to the Assembly of the League of Nations today communicated a statement expressing the Asiatic disappointment and sense of crying injustice at not being represented on the Council.

The statement recalls the recommendation of the Assembly relative to the geographical principle in the distribution of the six non-permanent seats on the Council. It expresses the opinion that this disregard and neglect of Asia's legitimate rights may injure the League of Nations and says that the responsibility certainly cannot fall on Asia or the Asiatic States if that continent or the greater part of it begins to disinterest itself in the work of the League.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 2.—Replying to questions in the House of Commons today on the subject of Geneva, Mr. J. R. Clynes, the Deputy Leader of the House, said that he could only say that the Protocol was not binding on any Government until it had been formally approved. He added that the British representative at Geneva had made it clear that approval could only be given after full consideration by

Chekiang Retreats On Twenty Mile Front Before Sungkiang

Heavy Losses Inflicted Upon Fukien Soldiers Attempting To Cross Creek By Bridge And Boats

BY TALBOT PATRICK

Sungkiang, Oct. 3. 8:30 p.m.—As hinted in the unofficial information given in my yesterday's despatch, Chekiang forces have made a withdrawal of several miles all along this front.

Official statements made at Sungkiang headquarters today show that in places the retreat was for more nearly ten than five miles in some parts of the line. There was not heavy fighting in the course of the retreat but the battle has grown stronger last night and all day today as the pursuing Fukien troops have come up against and attempted to force the major defense line.

Chekiang leaders declare that their opponents have sustained heavy losses at two places along the front between Chingpu and the bank of the Whangpoo which has all been involved in the fighting of the last twenty-four hours.

One loss was when Fukien men attempted to cross on the remains of the structure of bridge No. 31, about five miles beyond Sungkiang, in the face of fire from infantry and field guns in intrenchments which have been under preparation for a number of days. The losses of the Chekiang men, but slightly exposed in their trenches, were declared light.

BOAT ATTACK

The other loss of the Fukien men, said to be in hundreds, came come when a large body of them in a launch and eleven boats towed by the launch attempted a forward movement in the vicinity of Tachiang, where two branches of the Whangpoo join. Machine gun fire sank the launch and several boats and from this and rifle fire, as well as drowning, the attackers lost many men.

The Chekiang troops are now in their main defense lines, to which their leaders declare they retired without attempting any heavy resistance on their old skirmish line. The present line is one well adapted to defense and it is probably the hope at Lunghua that the troops will hold it as tenaciously as the men before Huangtu have kept their position.

There are rumors, however, that a still further retreat is possible, which would put the extreme left flank of the Chekiang troops on the Whangpoo at Minghong, about fifteen miles from Shanghai. The latter line would have the advantage of a motor road to Minghong by which the left flank could be supplied as the right flank at Liuho now is. There is the disadvantage, however, that Sungkiang would be lost, communication and supply lines to Chingpu made much more difficult to maintain and less favorable country used along the front in general.

LINE RETREATED TO

The present line extends on either side of bridge No. 31, where the opposing troops face each other. It extends southeast along the branch of the Whangpoo, past Taichiang, where two branches join, then past the confluence of this stream with another branch and some distance down the main stream to a point about due south of Sungkiang.

To the north, the line follows the branch of the Whangpoo about two miles and then turns off a tributary creek which goes up to Chingpu with only a slight swell or curve toward the west. This is a safe distance in front of the creeks and canals used for the military traffic between Sungkiang and Chingpu.

There is no doubt that it has been the plan to make the big stand at bridge 31, as this is where the intrenchments have been dug and a number of field guns put in emplacements carefully constructed with liberal use of railroad ties. I have been told that there is here a battery of 120 millimeter guns in addition to the smaller field pieces.

The Fukien men are reported to have already put in temporary wooden structure at bridge 35,

NIPPON, SOVIET BEGIN DRAFT OF NEW AGREEMENT

Moscow's Final Proposals Are Transmitted To Japan's Delegate

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, Oct. 2.—The Japanese and Soviet delegates today commenced drawing up articles regarding general principles.

At today's meeting, M. Karakhan presented to Mr. Yoshizawa the final proposition of the Soviet Government and discussions were conducted on comparatively insignificant questions. Upon reference being made to the question of the preservation and continuance of Japan's undertakings in North Saghalien, it was agreed that the question of rights and interests in North Saghalien, together with other important questions such as the treaty of commerce, Russian debts to Japan, and the Nikolaievsk affair, would be deliberated upon at meetings to be held hereafter.

Sun Yat-sen Envoy Arrives In Tokio

COURT MARTIAL IS ORDERED FOR JAPANESE SAILOR

Held To Face Charge Of Stabbing Chinese On Baikal Road

S. Ishibashi, a sailor of H.I.J.S.S. Hira, has been held for court martial on a charge of stabbing Zung Ah Kee, a Chinese assistant in a foodstall on Baikal Road.

The alleged stabbing took place early yesterday morning on Baikal Road near the Dan Yeu Li Alleway.

According to evidence in the case gathered by the Municipal Police the Japanese sailor and several companions were in Baikal Road at about 1 o'clock in the morning. Ishibashi had been drinking. The party hailed ricshas, but a number of ricsha coolies who were in the vicinity, seeing the condition of the men, ran away.

Ishibashi, thinking that the Chinese assistant in the foodstall had told the ricsha men not to take the sailors, approached the latter and without warning drew a clasp-knife and stabbed him in the back, inflicting a deep wound in the left scapula. After stabbing the man, he ran down Baikal Road. Several Chinese gave chase, and followed the Japanese sailor to the entrance of the Japanese Naval Club where he was taken into custody by two Chinese police constables. He had dropped the knife en route.

At St. Luke's Hospital, to which the wounded Chinese was taken, it was said that his condition was quite serious, but later reports indicated that his injuries were not as serious as first reported.

The Japanese sailor was brought before the Japanese Consular Court later in the day, when it was announced that an arrangement had been made whereby compensation was to be paid to the wounded shop assistant. The sailor was then held for a naval court martial.

PEKING PROTESTS SALE OF FRENCH PLANES TO CHANG

Minister At Paris To Try To Block Delivery Of Shipment

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Mukden, Oct. 3.—Headquarters here claim success for an air-bombing raid which took place on October 1, on barracks and military trains between Shanhaikwan and Changli, causing heavy casualties. A report received from Tientsin apparently confirms this success.

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, Oct. 2.—In view of the fact that eighteen aeroplanes, which Marshal Chang Tso-lin has ordered from France and which, on September 30, arrived in Shanghai by a French steamer and are due to reach Newchwang before long, the Chinese Government, though some time ago the Waichiaopu filed a protest with the French Minister in Peking in this connection, is reported to have wired to Mr. Chen Lu, Chinese Minister to France, instructing him to request the French Government immediately to take steps for the prevention of transfer to Marshal Chang of the aeroplanes in question.

(Eastern News Agency)

It is reported in Chinese official circles that Lieut.-General Yo Kai-sheng, staff officer to Marshal Wu Pei-fu, will shortly proceed to Tokio in company with Mr. Wang Jung-pao, Chinese Minister to Japan, who for some time past has been on a visit here, on a mission to effect an understanding with the Japanese authorities concerned about the situation in North China.

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, Oct. 2.—The Waichiaopu tonight despatched Mr. Wang [illegible] to Shanhaikwan in order to deal with diplomatic questions in connection with military affairs. It is reported that Mr. Wang has already established his offices in Chinwangtao.

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, Oct. 2.—Marshal Wu Pei-fu has decided to despatch General Wang Cheng-ping to Jehol in view of the situation in the districts of Chienping and Lingyuan and to place the whole of the Second Chihli Army, the Shensi troops under Hu Ching-yi, and the 20th Shensi Division commanded by General Yen Chih-tang, under the command of General Wang Cheng-ping. It is understood that General Wang will arrive here today at 1 p.m. and will proceed to Jehol by motor-car tomorrow.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 3.—Following a protest to the French Legation against the supply of 20 aeroplanes to Marshal Chang Tso-lin, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs yesterday sent a note to the Japanese Legation asking that the Japanese authorities in Dairen hold these aeroplanes if they arrive in Dairen, adding that it is understood a French steamer is bringing the machines.

KIANGSU LOSES MANY MEN IN HUANGTU FIGHT

Gain Is Claimed Along Railway By Headquarters At Anting

BY MILES A. GOLDRICK

Anting (on the Shanghai-Nanking Railway five miles beyond Huangtu) September 30—Five hundred seriously wounded men were brought into Anting from the Kiangsu side of the fighting line this morning.

During the last twenty-four hours of sharp fighting the Kiangsu forces claim to have made considerable gains on the Huangtu sector. On September 29 they took Bridge No. 24 on the railway and since have consolidated their positions in this area.

Marshal Chi Hsieh-yuan and his general staff are now located in Anting and are much elated at the turn of events.

Tonight there is a heavy bombardment going on which is being replied to but without much effect by the Chekiang heavy artillery.

Both sides suffered heavy

SUNGKIANG FIGHTING MORE INTENSE; PEIYANG PARTY DRAFTS PEACE PRINCIPLES

Chekiang Secret Service Leader Dynamites Railway Bridge Between Changchow And Wusih, Ho Hears; Two Kiangsu Mutinies Reported; Pan Kuo-kan Sees Local Warlords; Chekiang Pushed Back At Sungkiang

Increasing hostilities on the Sungkiang front, continued lull on the Kiating-Huangtu-Liuho battle line, the removal of Kiangsu headquarters from Quinsan to Soochow and the blowing-up of an important railway bridge between Changchow and Wusih were important developments in yesterday's local war situation.

Unconfirmed reports from Lunghua also allege that Kiangsu forces at Liyang and Lumeng mutinied, causing a great deal of restlessness among the forces.

The first battalion of the 74th regiment of the nineteenth division of Kiangsu mutinied at Lumeng north of Soochow, the reports said, and marched towards the city of Wusih. In a village near Wusih, the Captain, Chow Yung-hui was captured and executed. At Liyang, the second battalion of the 37th regiment mutinied and looted the village of Yangcheng after murdering the village elder. These reports are not however confirmed by the China Press correspondent now on the Kiangsu front.

Fukien forces made a severe attack on Chekiang troops on Thursday night and the latter was obliged to abandon Shihhutang and retreat to the north side of the creek spanned by bridge No. 31. Fighting here is assuming the aspects of a general offensive, both sides employing heavy artillery fire. Lunghua, however, refuses to believe that fighting in this sector would ever assume the gravity of the battles in the Huangtu and Liuho sectors on account of the hills and waterways.

While the lull on the Kiating, Huangtu and Liuho fronts remains unbroken, it is anticipated that General Chi Hsieh-yuan will launch another general offensive today, three days after the suspension of heavy engagements. In a telegram to Peking, Chi stated that he was giving his men a rest for three days from Wednesday and would conduct a big offensive today with the joint forces of Shantung, Honan, Hupeh, Kiangsu and Anhwei.

An important bridge between Changchow and Wusih was dynamited and wrecked yesterday by General Wang Nai-ping, commander of the second corps of Kuomingtang men of the Chekiang army, according to a report he filed with General Ho Feng-lin. General Wang was formerly in command of the eighth division of national troops and was recently appointed to his position to do secret service work in the Kiangsu camp. The first corps is doing work of the same nature in Anhwei province.

A peace plan suggested by Peiyang militarists in Tientsin has been made public here by the China Evening Post. The plan is divided into three steps.

1—The re-appointment of General Wang Shih-cheng as Inspector-General of Kiangsu, Anhwei and Kiangsi in order to start peace negotiations with General Lu Yung-hsiang and General Ho Feng-lin and the transfer of General Chi Hsieh-yuan to the Military Council of Peking as a field marshal.

2—When an armistice is signed, Parliament in Peking will elect Wang Shih-chen as Vice-president of the Republic and Marshal Tuan Chi-jui will be invited to start peace negotiations between Wu Pei-fu and Chang Tso-lin, making the retirement of Tsao Kun as one of the peace terms.

3—After the retirement of Tsao, Wang Shih-chen will act as president and formulate a general reconstruction plan under which the Peiyang Party will be consolidated and all the former leaders, including Tuan, Lu, Hsu Shih-chang, Li Yuang-hung and others, reappear on the political stage.

The scheme is plausible from the viewpoint of the Peiyang Party as it tends to revive the political life of the once-famous Peiyang Party, which enjoyed its "golden age" at the time of Yuan Shih-k'ai's assumption of the presidency. However, in view of the triangular alliance between Dr.

IS THERE A PEACE MOVE ON?

The report from one of the officials in Nanking printed in The China Press yesterday morning stating that there were rumors in Nanking of a move started by the Dutch Minister in Peking to bring about an armistice in the fighting in the Shanghai area, was followed yesterday by further rumors in Shanghai of determined efforts on the part of influential Chinese in this city to bring an end to the local fighting.

Elsewhere in this issue of The China Press is a report from Tientsin stating that the old Peiyang Party has started a peace move. Just what all of these rumors mean is not known, but that such rumors are in the air is considered significant both in Chinese and foreign circles.

HO APPOINTS OWN MEN FOR LOCAL DOCK AND WORKS

Mr. Chao Ching-hua And Comm. P. Tsiang Succeed As Chiefs

The administration of the Kiangnan Dock and Engineering Works has been taken over by General Ho Feng-lin, the local Defense Commissioner as an outcome of the war. Admiral K. N. Lew and Mr. K. W. Kwong, the government appointees, have been dismissed and are replaced by Mr. Chao Ching-hua, formerly managing director of the Shanghai-Nanking Railway and Commander P. Tsiang, in command of one of the gunboats of the former Shanghai Navy.

The foreign staff, it is understood, will remain unchanged, Mr. R. B. Mauchan, the superintendent, will continue his services together with his entire engineering staff.

"The undersigned have been appointed by General Ho Feng-lin, Commissioner of Defense for Sungkiang and Shanghai and Admiral Ling Chien-chang, to replace Messrs. K. N. Lew and K. W. Kwong as Directors of the above Dock and Engineering Works, as from Sept. 24th. Messrs. Lew and Kwong have no further connection with the Dock and have no authority to receive moneys, issue receipts or sign on behalf of the dock. All contracts and accounts outstanding must be approved by and settled with the undersigned, who are authorised to sign jointly all contracts, receipts, cheques, vouchers, etc. etc. for and on behalf of the dock as from Sept. 24, 1924.

"Chao Ching Hua, Director

"Commander P. Tsiang, Director."

The Kiangnan Arsenal has been a bone of contention between rival chieftains in Kiangsu and Shanghai. The Arsenal is now supplying the Chekiang army with all kinds of rifle and artillery ammunition. The Dock and Engineering works located alongside the Arsenal has the most modern facilities for shipping repairs. The drydock here measures over 554 feet in length with a width of 70 feet at the entrance.

It will remembered that during the world war, this dockyard constructed four big vessels for the United States Government merchant marine. The Celestial, the Mandarin, the Cathay and the Oriental. These were the biggest boats ever built in China, being all of 10,000 ton displacement and are among the biggest and finest in the American merchant marine. After the war, they were purchased by the Dollar interests and now serving as part of the Dollar fleet of cargo vessels all over the world.

Sun Yat-sen, Marshal Chang Tso-lin and General Lu Yung-hsiang, it is not likely that the scheme is acceptable to General Lu.

General Pan Kuo-kan, commander of the first division of Chekiang troops, arrived at Lunghua from Ningpo yesterday and immediately called on Generals Lu Yung-hsiang and Ho Feng-lin. He was accompanied by Brigadier-General Nai Kuo-si and will stay here till Monday when he plans to return to Ningpo.

Leading Kuomintang members in Shanghai yesterday entertained Mr. Sun Fu, son of Dr. Sun Yat-sen, at tiffin yesterday at the home of Mr. Pan Tsing-chen in Frenchtown. Among those present were Mr. Chu Tseng, Mr. Chang Chi, Mr. Li Shih-hou and Chow Pei-tseng.

Fifty-three wounded were brought back from the Huangtu sector yesterday. About half a dozen required major operations.

At the request of the Lunghua authorities, Dr. W. S. New, Red Cross field director, visited three military base hospitals in Kaochongmiao, Nantao, and made certain suggestions for improvements in the buildings. Eight hundred wounded are being taken care of in these hospitals.

On Sunday morning, a party of the American Red Cross will visit the Red Cross Hospitals in Shanghai.

Parliament. An opportunity for discussion would be found as soon as possible.

In reply to supplementary questions, Mr. Clynes said that it was not merely proper but it was necessary to supply for the purpose of Parliamentary discussion a clear statement on the policy of the British Delegation at Geneva with regard to use of the British Fleet. Asked whether steps had been taken to obtain the advice of the Admiralty in that connection, Mr. Clynes asked for notice.

The Hague, Oct. 2—It is semi-officially stated that, although the Security and Disarmament Protocol is regarded here as marking an important advance, the Dutch Government considers it advisable in view of certain points to reserve the right to consider the document before finally accepting it.

Sydney, Oct. 2.—The consensus of opinion on the Geneva compromise is opposed to any interference of Australia's sovereign rights.

The Morning Herald notes that the clause is permissive and not mandatory and hopes that the League will think twice before exercising the option in connection with immigration. The journal says that to bring immigration within the purview of the League would probably lead to dissolution of the League itself.

The Daily Telegraph says that it requires more information but, if the terms have been made subject to any sort of a compromise, the Australian delegates have made a fatal mistake.

Soviet Consulate Officially Opened

Notification issued by Mr. R. J. Elleder, representative of Soviet Russia in Shanghai, announces that the former Czarist Consulate at No. 1 Whangpoo Road, has been officially opened as headquarters in Shanghai of the Union of Soviet Socialistic Republics.

While the red Soviet flag was not displayed from the Russian consular building yesterday the brilliantly lighted interior with red curtains over the windows doubtless gave the effect desired to passersby on Whangpoo road last evening.

as I said several days ago could be easily done. They are not yet running trains across this, so far as I could learn. Trains on the Chekiang side now run only as far as bridge 30.

NO BOXER SOLDIERS

No other than the Fukien troops are yet reported by the Chekiang leaders to have come into the line opposite them. On the other hand, there is no doubt but that General Ma Liang and his much advertised boxing, spear-bearing and no-gun-carrying soldiers who were reported two days ago at Lunghua who have gone to this front have so far failed to put in an appearance.

A few of the regular soldiers in this sector and more on the Huangtu-Kiating-Liuho line have blossomed out with hunting knives. These are not specifically for trench warfare, as some of our foreign veterans might believe, but are a mark of distinction for participation in some dangerous charge or the like and might be compared to the fourragere.

There seems to be no likelihood of an attempt to outflank the Chekiang army by an advance south of the Whangpoo. Chekiang leaders say they have men in small boats available to be sent on a defense line on the north bank if any attempt should be made.

Exchange Shop Is Raided By Robbers

Two armed robbers escaped with $36 in a raid on an exchange shop at 1388 Baikal Road, according to a report filed Thursday night with police of the Wayside district. One of the men remained on guard outside the shop, while the other went behind the counter, intimidated a woman and a shop assistant who were present at the time, and seized the money from a cash box.

Business Life Insurance

IF no Business Insurance is carried on the life of the important member of a firm, the procedure of the leading credit rating houses, such as Dun's and Bradstreet, is this. At his death, credit rating is suspended until the firm's affairs are adjusted and it is known how seriously this death has affected the business. Even a temporary suspension of credit at such a critical time might result seriously to a firm—and this can all be prevented through the medium of Business Life Insurance.

SHANTUNG COAST DEFENSE CORPS IS REINFORCED

2,000 More Soldiers Expected In Tsingtao To Join Garrison

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tsingtao, Sept. 28.—About 2,000 Shantung soldiers, acting under orders from General Cheng, Tuli of Shantung, and concurrently Defence Commissioner of the Coasts of Chihli and Shantung, will arrive here tomorrow, it is expected.

The advent of these troops will materially swell Tsingtao's defence corps. There are well over 500 marines and the total number of police and gendarmes is above 2,500.

Simultaneously troops are proceeding toward Chefoo and Lungkow. Although there is a general feeling of tranquility here it is no secret that there has been some uneasiness felt at Chefoo. Some months ago Chefoo was the scene of the attempted pirating of the Hai Chi, flagship of Admiral Wen's squadron and his largest and most heavily armed man-of-war.

The general feeling of complacency is inspired by the presence of Admiral Wen's warships in adjacent waters.

German Trade Pact Is Asked By Japan

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Oct. 2.—It is understood that Japan has requested the German Government to negotiate a commercial agreement on the basis of most-favored nation treatments on the part of both countries.

A similar German suggestion last year was not accepted.

Friend And Backer Of Shackleton Dead

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 2.—Mr. J. O. Rowett, who was one of the principal financers of the Shackleton-Rowett Expedition of the Quest to the South Antarctic in 1921—1922, was found dead in his residence in London today.

According to his papers, Mr. Rowett, who was found hanged, had lost £15,000 in the Shackleton expedition.

He was very much affected by the death of Sir Ernest Shackleton of whom he was a schoolfellow, while the financial crash of Sir John Stewart, the whisky distiller, who committed suicide, is believed to have cost Mr. Rowett £100,000.

(Reuter's American Service)

HOUSE PASSES IRISH BILL ON THIRD READING

Boundary Measure Given 251 Votes In Commons To 99 Against

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 2.—The House of Commons this evening passed the third reading of the Irish Boundary Bill by 251 votes to 99.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 2.—The House of Commons went into committee on the Irish Bill today.

Mr. J. R. Clynes expressed the hope that when the committee stage was concluded today the report and the third reading would also be taken, upon which the House would adjourn till October 8, when the motion of censure in connection with the Workers' Weekly would be taken.

The House by 257 votes to 207 rejected a Conservative amendment providing that the commissioners should adjust the boundary without substantially altering the area of Northern Ireland as fixed by the Government of Ireland Act of 1920.

The chief interest emerging from the debate was an undertaking by Mr. J. H. Thomas sympathetically to consider a suggestion by the Ulster Member, Mr. Reid, to compensate the people for property who, through boundary changes, might find themselves transferred, so that they might be enabled to re-cross the new border and re-establish themselves.

Prize Cattle Are Bought By Szechuen Dairy Association

(China Press Correspondence)

Kaifeng, Honan Province, Sept. 29.—On November 6, 1923 we sold to the Szechuen Dairy Cattle Improvement Association, Chengtu, Szechuen, Kaifeng King Sylvia Model No. 415349, only four months old, for a total of $1,100.00 Mexican dollars.

Recently we received the following interesting letter from the Secretary of the Association. "I have been waiting for a good opportunity to write you to let you know that the animals arrived safely May 30 (1924) at 10 p.m. I question whether Paul's missionary trips could be much more exciting than the cattle have had. To celebrate the arrival 80 people gathered on our lawn to welcome the cattle. Not to be outdone by the foerigners her, Gamboge Kaifeng Mary the following week gave birth to a lovely bull calf 73 lbs. two days after birth. The Jersey heifer calved some weeks before enroute, bringing a heifer calf.

"A few days after the bull calf arrived we invited the Governor of the Province out to see the animals, and he christened the bull calf. He was greatly taken with the project we are hoping to develop and a few days ago sent us his check for $1,000.00 to further the cause.

"If cost us approximately $800.00 to get the three head of cattle here. This, of course, includes all the expenses for feed and a good deal of additional stuff that we had to pay out because they were on the road so long. . . .

"Kaifeng Mary has several times hit a fraction over 24 lbs. of milk a day, in spite of the hot weather and the long trip. . . .

We are certainly glad to get the animals, and hope our effort will be crowned with success."

losses in the fighting of today and the two days previously. Kiangsu admits losses of 1,000 and Kiangsu officers attached to the General Staff estimate that Chekiang's losses have been at least fifty percent greater.

BY MILES A. GOLDRICK

Huangtu, Sept. 30.—A rainy day was merging into a foggy night as our troop train came into Anting—the jumping off place of the Kiangsu communications. Through the darkness and mud we piled out, the men cursing at the absence of lights.

As we got off our places were immediately re-filled by hundreds of wounded men who had just came in from the firing line. They were being transported by straining, slipping coolie power. The absence of stretchers at this particular point had necessitated some peculiar makeshifts, mainly doors or chairs slung to bamboo poles overhead by two or four bearers. These litters seemed to have seen hard use during the day as they were covered with blood.

I started up the line in search of the traffic officer or a guide to direct me to the trenches. As I picked my way through the darkness I stepped on something soft and striking a match found it to be the hand of a man recently "gone west" who hadn't as yet found a coffin. Such a hodgepodge on the platform—ammunition, corpses, firewood, blankets, men, coffins, and crates of live ducks.

After much diligent search and questioning, I finally received the information that I would not be permitted to enter the front lines until dawn and with this information and the prospect of a night on the hard ground I was left to ponder.

Along both sides of the railroad were endless streams of gray coated men tramping silently and swiftly towards the roar of the guns. Now came a long string of coolies with slings of ammunition on their ever present bamboo poles, and as a break appeared in the formation I cast a glance at the drizzling sky and fell in behind.

The shells had been breaking a short distance from the station and as we proceeded down the track the roar and shriek of those passing over head became intense. Evidently the movement of this body of men was detected for a veritable barrage appeared between us and our objective. But the men plugged along and I followed although rather weak in the knees whenever a shell broke very close by. We passed a flat car on which had been mounted a large howitzer-type field piece. As we passed it let loose a blast which nearly shook us out of our boots.

By this time we were on the edge of the firing line and just ahead the rails gave off occasional sparks as bullets ricocheted. Every once in a while we stumbled over a body or bumped into a man carrying a casualty out on his back. I commenced feeling dubious about now as to my ability to see a great deal that night anyway and was just about ready to turn back when either a shrapnel or high explosive shell hit the head of the column and a couple of men disappeared in a cloud of smoke. By now I was throughly convinced that I wasn't needed on the firing line that night and after uncertain searching and much hard walking I came to the station and climbed into a locomotive cab for a little warmth and rest.

After the engine hauled a load of half a dozen cars of wounded to Quinsan, and by a judicious distribution of cigarettes and boiled eggs I persuaded the engine crew that Soochow would be the best place to spend the remainder of the night. The cars had already been uncoupled and after a final smoke the driver opened the throttle wide and lay down on the floor for some sleep. We roared down that line as it has never been traveled before, nothing more to guide us than two thin lines of steel. How we ever escaped jumping the track is hard to say as the engine was in reverse and we pushed the tender ahead of us all the way. Still, we did it and after waking the driver we slid into Soochow along with the sun as it cleared the fog away.

Moother Goose with a yellow face and a history extending thousands of years farther back than the dear old lady known to English-speaking children was presented to the students of the Shanghai American School last Thursday morning by Mrs. J. J. Connell in an interesting lecture-recital. The entire high school and the pupils of several grades gathered in the assembly hall to hear her. Many striking parallels were pointed out between the Mother Goose rhymes known in England and America and those which have been familiar to many generations of Chinese children. Under Mrs. Connell's versatile treatment the old lady of the chimney corner became quite international in character; so much so, in fact, that she might well be proposed for a seat in the League of Nations. Mrs. Connell began with a brief review of the rise of Mother Goose in China and in the other countries of the world. Then she received or sang many interesting Chinese versions. About a thousand or more years ago Mother Goose spoke in China thus:

"There's a cow on the mountain,
The old saying goes.
On her legs are four feet,
And on her feet are eight toes.
Her head is on the front of her neck
And her tail behind on the end of her back."

Another one:

"Wash your hnnds, you little tease,
And you'll be free from all disease.
Wash your head, pour face and throat,
And you shall have a red silk coat."

Mrs. Connell began her study of this subject ten years ago, and was able to present many interesting angles.

The opening lecture of the season, entitled "Theosophy and the Theosophical Society," was delivered by Miss D. Arnold on last Thursday afternoon in the hall of the Shanghai Lodge of the Society. The lecturer described the origin and progress of the movement, and the notable influence it had in combating the aggressive materialism of the last century. The physical evolution affirmed by science must be understood in its relation to spiritual evolution, the supreme importance of which was proclaimed by Theosophy. It is proposed to hold further public lectures at intervals of a fortnight, the titles to be announced later.

The Roper Cup match is to be played this afternoon at the Majestic Hotel grounds. This is one of the best matches of the year, between the American and British tennis champions of Shanghai, and is certain to show some brilliant playing.

The Roper Cup commemorates an American who until his dath a few years ago did very much for the promotion of international sport in Shanghai, particularly in the way of friendly co-operation between British and Americans here. The Cup is played for yearly. The American team has won it for the last three years, and fully expects to hold it for the coming year, though the British pair are strong players and will put up a good contest.

Messrs. Gulick and Hager will be the American team today. Both are brilliant players, and fully capable of holding up the American side. As for the English team, Messrs. Wade and Mansel-Smith were thought of, they being the Doubles Champions of Shanghai, but owing to Wade's entry with Canavarro for the Singles Championship this afternoon, at the same time as the Roper Cup Match, this combination will be impossible. Mansel-Smith will probably be paired with Goldman instead. This English team can be depended upon to put up a good game against the crack Americans.

J. L. Wade will meet R. Canavarro in a match for the Singles Championship of Shanghai this afternoon, also at the Majestic Hotel grounds at 3.30. This is the conclusion of the Men's Singles Tournament, in which there were a very large number of entries and some excellent playing this year. Four rounds were necessary to select the players for the semi-finals, which were held last Thursday, Messrs. Wade and Canavarro defeating Klimanek and Goldman respectively, each three sets to nil.

This afternoon's match may be depended upon to show some fast and clever playing between these two stars.

The Shanghai Lawn Tennis Association yesterday announced the order of play in the Ladies' Singles Championship for this year, this being as per the following chart:

1st RUND	2nd ROUND	3rd ROUND	SEMI-FINAL	FINAL

LADIES' SINGLE TOURNAMENT

The first round of the tournament is to be played by next Monday, October 6; the second round by Wednesday, October 8; the third round by Friday, October 10. The semi-finals are scheduled to be played off on Monday, October 13. The date of the final match will be announced later by the Association.

CHINESE FOOTBALL TEAM MAKES FINE NEW ZEALAND TRIP

Brilliant Exhibition Put Up By College Players

In connection with the growing interest among Chinese in the game of association football, as exemplified by the formation of teams here and the decision of the Shanghai Football Association recently to admit Chinese teams, the recent trip of a Chinese college football team to New Zealand, and their success there, is worthy of attention. This team made a very successful tour. It played its last game in New Zealand on October 1, and is now on its way home.

One of the team's finest exhibitions was its game with the New Zealand team August 23, with regard to which the New Zealand "Times" of August 25 writes as follows:

Never in the history of Soccer in New Zealand has such a program been put on in one afternoon as was the case on Saturday at the Basin Reserve, when the Chinese University team not only succeeded in making a draw of two goals each with the New Zealand team, but were two goals better on the play.

The score was one—one at the interval, Dacre having headed in from a corner kick for New Zealand, while Wu put on a beauty for China. In the second spell Chang put the visitors ahead with a perfect goal, receiving a mangificent overhead pass from Ling, and three minutes later Daniells equalized in a scrum in front of goal.

Time and again the Chinese positively thrilled the crowd with their brilliant foot and head work, in which they quite outshone the New Zealand team, while Ewing, the All Black custodian, had fully three times as many shots to save as Pao, and some gruelling shots at that. Chang, the brothers Ting, Wang, Wu, and Pao, were outstanding for China, the left-wingers in particular, while Lothian, Dacre, Daniells, Neesham, and Anderson were the pick of the New Zealand team.

It was the finest performance that the Chinese team has put up, and with a little less bad luck, rather than a little luck, they would have won by at least two clear goals. There were from ten to eleven thousand spectators, but after the display they gave on Saturday, if it should be necessary to play another test in Wellington at the close of the tour the attendance would probably be double.

EARNED A VICTORY

Those who read the reference to the second test match in Saturday's "Times" will recall that it stated that if the Chinese team started where they left off the previous Saturday, the New Zealand team would be kept busy from start to finish. The visitors justified this opinion up to the hilt, and if they had only met with their deserts they would have left the field winners by a margin of at least two goals. There were many who saw the first game in Wellington when the vesitors were apparently not yet in shape after their long voyage, who were prejudiced against seeing them again and sought their sport else where. The disappointment was theirs, for they missed the brightest exhibition, or two exhibitions, of the code seen for many a long day.

The first few minutes served to show the spectators that the visitors were a vastly different team to that which played in Wellington four days after their arrival. Alertness, vigor, and speed were noticeable all round, and the way in which they anticipated the play was a pleasure to watch. A feature in which at no time were they excelled by the New Zealand team was the manner in which the inside men took a pass from the wingers, deflecting the ball with the side of the foot wherever they wished to place it, either to one wing or the other. And these touches were invariably first-time touches, the player not stopping the ball. Ting on the left wing was a wonder, and his fine turn of speed and clever manoeuvring enabled him to beat the half-back nine times out of ten. Then he would sprint down the line, and about ten yards from the bottom would turn and send in his centres with deadly accuracy. The crowd fully appreciated these fine points of the game, and roared their applause.

The final whistle went with the game a draw of 2—2, but with the balance of play decidedly in favor of the Chinese. As they left the field they were given a hearty reception, shaking hands with spectators all along the line, being warmly congratulated upon the very fine exhibition they had given, the best ever seen in New Zealand.

John Dempsey, Esq.

Rather an unusual photograph of Dempsey is the above, showing Jack beside the roadster in which he spends many of his leisure hours on California roads. Now that the champ is becoming a screen star he finds it hard work to shake off Hollywood's weenies it is said, and this car is his only refuge from the maddening girls. It seems, however, to have turned out a dud, increasing the wild chase rather than anything else. Some class to Jack when he's got his glad rags on, as well as when he's in the ring with them off.

TSINGTAO RACE MEETS ATTRACT GREAT INTEREST

Ponies From Shanghai Will Take Part In October Programs

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tsingtao, Sept. 28.—The September meeting of the International Recreation Club was as highly successful as its predecessors and the coming October meeting is attracting great interest, especially since thirty new ponies from Hailar and several from Shanghai have arrived to test their speed against the pick of local ponies and others from Shanghai, Peking and Tientsin, which are on the ground.

The International Recreation Club has showed a commendable interest in local sports and besides conducting its periodical races has laid out a soccer football field and is at present constructing tennis courts and a playground for the use of the general public. One of the objects of the club is to promote local sports and stimulate interest in physical training and it appears that the club is to realize its desires.

The first soccer game here in many months was played a few days ago between the railway and the Chinese Athletic Club and resulted in a hard-fought victory for the latter by 2 goals to 1.

GALLOPERS PLAY ALL-ASIATIC NINE THIS AFTERNOON

Huron Game Off; Fleet Said To Have Crackerjack Ball Team

The Shanghai Amateur Baseball Club will meet the All-Asiatic nine at Pioneer Field at 3:30 this afternoon. Two games were previously scheduled with the team from the U.S.S. Huron, but this nine will be unable to play today and tomorrow as arranged.

Manager Gallop succeeded late last evening in getting a game with the All-Asiatic Fleet team, which is said to be even better than the Hurons, being made up of men from the various ships in port. Manager Callahan of the Fleet team is well known here, he having made an excellent reputation as manager of the 38-Division team here three years ago. The All-Asiatics are from all accounts a crackerjack aggregation, and the Gallopers will have to go the limit to beat them.

Today's game is fixed for 3:30 p.m. Admission charges will be as follows:

Grandstand, back of home plate and first base, 60 cents; back of third base, 30 cents; Bleachers, 10 cents.

Sunday's game has not yet been announced, but it may be possible to arrange a second game with the All-Asiatic team. If not, a contest may be staged with the Tung Wen College nine, a clever bunch of ball-tossers here.

INTERCOLLEGIATE TENNIS

Sports Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Dear Editor;

In one of the Shanghai papers two days ago there was an article by Mr. K. S. Chang, in which he disclosed the difficulty in playing off the East China Intercollegiate Tennis Series. With regard to this matter, I wish to put forth a feasible suggestion.

As there is no telling when the present war is going to end, we certainly should not let it indefinitely interfere with our anticipated program. This year the Tennis Committee of E. C. I. A. A. has worked out a schedule which will run for several years to follow. Unfortunately, as it now seems the scheme will not be immediately applicable. On the other hand, in spite of this handicap all the local colleges have started school as usual with the exception of Nanyang University, which is reported to open within this few days. Hangchow and Nanking have already resumed their work—the latter is not under suspension as reported by K. S. Chang. Southeastern will open on October 11, and Soochow on 13th. This will mean that all the colleges of the East China Intercollegiate Athletic Association will very soon be put back to normal condition and this tennis affair should not be disturbed.

A plan of having three separate tournaments will make it possible to decide the championship and run off the series. A quadrangle tournament in Shanghai, composed of Shanghai College, St. John's University, Futan University and Nanyang University, will decide the winner of Shanghai, while in as much as the train service is still normal from Soochow to Nanking, a triangle tournament can be arranged between Southeastern University of Nanking, and Soochow University. The winner of the triangle should meet the winner of the quadrangle by a special arrangement. Since Hangchow is in a very difficult position, so we would allow her to be a byer of the final match by giving them the special privilege of challenging the winner of the two. This will make it possible to decide the season's Championship in spite of the war.

Understanding that the tennis season of E.C.I.A.A. is at hand and two of the three committee members are in Shanghai, I hope this plan will be given their special consideration and approval.

Thanking you for the valuable space, and enclosing my card,

Sincerely yours,
"Telegraph Transferer."

MAJOR ZANNI TO ATTEMPT FLIGHT TO JAPAN TODAY

Argentinian World Aviator To Hop Off For Kagoshima This Morning

Unless he is delayed by untoward weather conditions, Major Pedro L. Zanni, Argentinian round-the-world aviator, will hop off from Shanghai today on the next stage of his journey, the immediate goal of which is Kagoshima, Japan.

At a late hour last night, Signor Felipe C. Beltrame, mechanic for Major Zanni on his attempt to fly around the world, returned to Shanghai from the Standard Oil installation at Pootung where Major Zanni's plane is moored and announced that everything was in readiness for a continuation of the flight. Minor repairs had been made here, as Shanghai is the last supply base which Major Zanni has before attempting to cross the Pacific.

It was expected that Major Zanni and Signor Beltrame would leave the Astor House, where they have been staying during their brief visit in Shanghai, at 6:30 o'clock this morning embarking at the Customs jetty on a launch for Black Point, and that the plane would be able to take off from Black Point by eight o'clock. From Shanghai, Major Zanni intends to follow the same route as that laid out for the American round-the-world flyers, with Kagoshima, Japan, as his first stop, and then the attempt to span the Pacific after a northward flight through Japan.

Major Zanni yesterday, following a tiffin given in his honor yesterday noon by Mr. A. Arce-Suzrez, Consul for Chile in Shanghai, paid an official call on General Lu Yung-hsiang at the Arsenal. Last night, he was the guest at a dinner tendered in his honor by Mr. J. C. Palencia, Spanish Consul.

"Aida"

Verdi's "Aida" is essentially an opera of the spectacular as well as the musical order, calling for large and spacious effects and stage crowds. Consequently when a travelling company endeavors to stage this particular work they are faced with very considerble difficulty. The manner in which the Italian Grand Opera Company surmounted these obstacles to success deserved the fullest appreciation of the large audience which assembled at the Olympic Theater last evening to hear them. They got it; the audience at all times was enthusiastic from the moment F. Corbetta commenced "O, Celeste Aida" until the final fall of the curtain. This singer is not entirely fitted to the part, lacking that degree of stage presence to be expected of so important a role as that of Rhadames, but at the same time considerable praise has to be given him for his singing which certainly tended to minimize the natural difficulties under which he worked. He was by no means the weakest of the men leads, and with perhaps the exception of M. C. Paterna, as Pharaoh, they might all be classed as strong, particularly M. Scamuzzi as King of the Ethiopians and M. C. Milocchi in the part of Ramfis, the High Priest.

Scamuzzi sang as we know by experience he can, using his splendid voice to give full dramatic value to an exceptionally picturesque character, while Milocchi used his delightful basso to excellent effect throughout the whole of the opera. M. Barontini's part as a messenger was insignificant and handled quite in keeping with its proportions.

Mlle. Lashkova in the title character was infinitely better than her make-up, which, like Scamuzzi's was somewhat sketchy. She sang, however, delightfully, giving full value to every note of tragedy and proving herself a good actress. Mlle. Celeste Vornos, in this respect, shared honors with her, the two sustaining the feminine roles in a manner worthy of high praise.

The chorus work in the main was good, though at times there seemed a little hesitancy in attack, and on occasion, especially in the singing off stage in Act I. Scene II a tendency to a slight flatness. These were, however, minor blemishes to be expected of a company which presents a different opera each night. The orchestra was excellent, as was also the setting, each scene presenting an excellent picture infinitely better than those with which the company travelled a few years back. Taken in all "Aida" was an outstanding performance, one which it was a real pleasure to hear, and if before they go the company cares to present it again they will no doubt receive as enthusiastic a reception as they earned last night. P.-G.

THEY ARE NOT ALL DEAD YET.

"THE CARRIE" & WILLIAM OLDHAM (Insert)

William Oldham, a Warrington, Eng., engineer, will attempt in August to cross the Atlantic Ocean in the "Carrie," a motorboat of his own construction, 12 feet in length, and with a beam of three feet. He is confident he can reach New York in 40 days. Just why, no one knows.

BIG RECEPTION IN SEATTLE TO TSING HUA BOYS

Students Heartily Welcomed By China Club Of Seattle

At a reception given by the China Club of Seattle to the Tsing Hua and private groups of Chinese students who arrived in the port by the President Jefferson September 8, a splendid program was arranged. These students, it will be remembered, were given an excellent send-off here before their departure from Shanghai August 22.

The reception was given at the Hotel Gowman. Mr. A. F. Haines, Vice-President of the Admiral Oriental Line, who is President of the China Club of Seattle, was toastmaster, and the program, which was given in connection with an imposing dinner menu, was of much interest. Mayor Brown of Seattle gave the opening address, "Welcome to our City," which was followed by another welcoming speech from Mr. Lew Kay, Chinese Vice-Consul in Seattle.

After this Miss Julia Fisher, formerly Dean of Women in the Canton Christian College, gave an inspiring talk on "The Students of China as America's Opportunity." Prof. Condon, Dean of the Washington University's College of Law, spoke of "China's Development through the Medium of her Students in American Universities." Mr. Heifner spoke on "Seattle and the Orient." and Dr. Matthews on "Education for Spiritual Leadership."

In response to these speeches, two students spoke, one representing the Tsing Hua group and the other the private students. Music was rendered by the Russian Quartette of Seattle.

The China Club of Seattle was organised eight years ago for the promotion of friendship, peace, and commercial intercourse between China and the U. S. A. On its Board of Trustees are many Americans and Chinese well known in Shanghai, including Messrs. W. S. Allen, E. G. Anderson, Henry Blackwood, M. J. Connell, J. T. Hardeman, Andrew Kan, Vice-Consul Lew G. Kay and Dr. Gowen.

AMONG THOSE PRESENT at almost every social gathering is some-one afflicted with unpleasant breath, a distressing circumstance to all concerned. Sometimes this affliction is due to decayed teeth. More frequently the teeth are not to blame, but other causes for which the proper remedy is Pinkettes. Are you constipated, bilious, liverish? Have you sick headaches, vertigo, flatulence, pimply, blotched skin? These are symptoms associated with bad breath which Pinkettes quickly correct. Then the breath becomes sweet and pure. All chemists sell Pinkettes, or post free, 60 cents the vial, from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Kiangse Road, Shanghai.

ROUTINE ORDERS ANNOUNCE FORMING OF NEW S.V.C. CO.

Annual Rifle Meet Of Corps Due To Start This Afternoon

The most important item in the routine orders issued by Col. W. F. L. Gordon, C.M.G., D.S.O., Commandant S.V.C., yesterday, was the official announcement of the formation of "C" Company, September 20. This is a company of mixed nationality, being formed especially for Swiss, Dutch, and Scandinavians, nationals whose numbers are individually insufficient to make up separate S.V.C. companies. 65 members are reported so far.

The company is being trained and used as infantry. Their first duty will be the coming Sunday, when they will be one of the two S.V.C. companies detailed to stand by.

Captain G. E. Mitchell is in command of the new unit.

The orders are as follows:

No. 149—Municipal Gazette. The following extract from the Municipal Gazette dated October 2, 1924, is published for information:

"Customs Company—Mr. M. Hendry (late Lieutenant, 4th Gordon Highlanders) to be 2nd Lieutenant."

No. 150—"C" Company. It is notified that date of formation of this unit is September 20, 1924 and that the official title will be "C" Company.

No. 151—Command. Captain G. E. Mitchell, Headquarters, will take over Command of "C" Company from September 20, 1924.

No. 152—Officers Leave. Major R. W. Davis, Field Artillery Battery, from October 2, to 10, 1924.

2nd Lieutenant A. J. Hope, Customs Company, from October 7, to November 3, 1924.

No. 153—Winter Uniform. Winter Uniform will be taken into wear for all duties mounting between 6 and 6:30 a.m. from today.

RIFLE MEET STARTS TODAY

Col. Gordon has also issued a notice of the time-table for the Annual Rifle Meet of the Corps, starting this afternoon. The schedule for the first couple of days, today and tomorrow, is announced as follows:

Saturday, 4—1:30 p.m. Event 1 (Section Knock-out Comp.).

Sunday, 5—7 a.m., Event 2 (Skirmishing by Sections); 10 a.m., Event 3 (Corporals Skirmishing); 10:45 a.m., Event 4 (Sergeants Skirmishing); 11:15 a.m., 5 (Officers Skirmishing); 1 p.m., Event 5 (Best Ten Comp.).

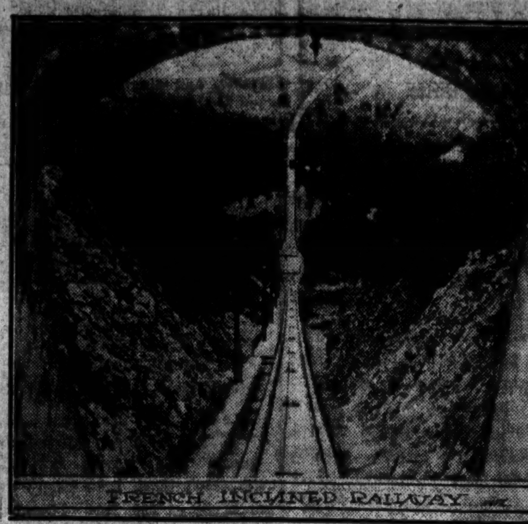
FRENCH COMPLETE GREAT ENGINEERING FEAT.



After several years of work one of the greatest engineering feats in France has been completed, with the running of inclined railway trains up this 6,000-foot elevation at Dauphine de St. Hilaire du Tover, three miles from Grenoble. The car climbs at a grade of 83 per cent to reach the sanitorium located atop the mountain.

Literary Department Of A.W.C. Holds Meeting

The first meeting of the season of the Library Department of the American Women's Club at 4:30 in the Club Rooms, yesterday was unusually well attended by department and club members.

After the routine business of the meeting was attended to, Mrs. C. F. McRae read a paper on "Modern German Fiction" which was exceptionally well received. Mrs. P. Giovannini followed her with a talk on "Current Events."

Mrs. McRae's paper which showed a great deal of care and attention to the subject took up German fiction as a whole and discussed special representative examples. The speaker prefaced her talk by saying that Germany is not particularly noted as a nation for its fiction. There are no outstanding novelists like Victor Hugo in France or Dickens in England. "The study of German fiction is somewhat difficult in Shanghai as it is impossible to obtain many translations of German books."

In making a brief survey of the German literature of the latter part of the 19th century, Mrs. McRae said that the German literature is a literature of individualism. "The German novelist of the 18th and 19th centuries deals with figures and thoughts rather than with actions and events. His aim to which all else is sacrificed is to follow out in all its details the growth of an individual."

Two novels which show this characteristic very clearly are "Absolution" and "Our Daily Bread" by a woman novelist, Clara Fiebig. Other women novelists of the period were Eugenie John, whose pseudonym was E Marlitt and Elise Burstenbinder who wrote under the name of E. Werner.

AUERBACH WELL LIKED

Berthold Auerbach, who wrote simple stories of village life and the peasants of the Black Forest, was a well-liked author whose "Professor's Wife" and "On the Heights" are well-known in Germany. Fritz Reuter was a pupil of Auerbach who soon proved to be superior to the master. His tragic life might have marred his literary genius irreparably had it not been for the encouragement of his wife. Reuter drew his personages almost without exception from life, modelling his style after that of the English writer, Dickens.

In speaking of the writers of the present century, Mrs. McRae named an Austrian, Wasserman, who has produced several books since the war, one, especially notable, "The Gooseman." In conclusion she said: "It will be interesting to note whether these present day writers will prove to be really great novelists and produce any books as readable as those of Frenssen who wrote "Jorn Uhl" which went through several editions in the English translation and Suderman whose "Sins of the Father" and "The Wish" are so well known, as well as Clara Fiebig whose principal works have already been mentioned."

CURRENT EVENTS

Mrs. Giovannini's paper on Current Events was most comprehensive taking in all the items of world interest since the 'round-the-world air flights begun in April to the present war in China. This brief notice hardly serves to impart the real value that attaches to such talks as this one Mrs. Giovannini prepared, for the one given yesterday in the club served up world news in a nutshell for the consumption of women whose manifold activities preclude the possibility of their following news events so closely. It is the sort of thing which should be encouraged and Mrs. Giovannini is to be congratulated on the comprehensive survey she made of the news of the world and presented yesterday.

MERGER SCHEME COMPLETED FOR HWA CHUNG UNIV.

Three Mission Institutions Are Amalgamated By New Educational Plan

(Independent News Service)

Hankow, September 30.—Dr. A. A. Gilman, President of Boone University, Wuchang, announces that the merger scheme for founding the Central China University for Hwa Chung Ta Hsueh) has been completed. The three mission institution amalgmated by the scheme are Boone University (American Church Mission, Wesley College (Wesleyan Mission) of Wuchang, and Griffith John College (London Mission), Hankow.

The plan of the union university is to co-ordinate the college courses of the three institutions in order to better facilities for higher education in Central China. The project was mooted about three years ago, since which time practically all mission institutions have been corresponding with their home boards on the question. Difficulties were encountered and partly overcome. The Yale-in-China in Changsha was at first interested, but it finally could not join. Through the period of organisation, a fine spirit of co-operation coupled with an earnest desire to work for the cause of better education in this territory was displayed by all missionaries concerned. This paved the way for the culmination of what promises to be a great educational movement in the interior of China.

The fall term of the union university will soon be opened and classes are to be conducted on the co-ordinated plan. The University upon the completion of its organisation, will apply for a charter from the Ministry of Education in Peking.

Appeal For Funds To Relieve War Victims Made By Local Gentry

Mr. Tong Shao-yi, former Premier and veteran Southern leader, in association with eleven other prominent Chinese of Shanghai today telegraphed the Peking Cabinet, the Premier and the Ministers of Foreign Affairs, Finance and Education recommending that half of the proceeds of the Customs surtax which has been levied for famine relief purposes be diverted to Shanghai for the relief of victims of the war between Kiangsu and Chekiang. The telegram in full follows:

"More than one month has elapsed since the outbreak of the Kiangsu-Chekiang civil war. The terrible distress which the people have suffered is indescribable. Inside the fighting zone they have been killed, maimed or left without food and clothing; outside it many are on the verge of starvation due to stagnation of trade and increased cost of living. The number of suffering people is at least 6 or 7 millions. The conflict is not yet ended but the poor people are at the end of their resources. We shudder to think what will become of them in the future. The people of Kiangsu and Chekiang have always been charitably inclined.

"When there were flood and drought famines in the north they showed practical sympathy by raising large sums of money for relief purposes. These two provinces are now suffering from the ravages of war; merchants cannot do business, farmers cannot sow or reap, even the well-to-do are anxious about what will become of them on the morrow. The appalling distress is comparable only to that following the Taiping Rebellion. No less than $20,000,000 will be required for urgent relief, for tiding the victims over the winter and for rehabilitating them after the war.

"The Government can spare neither the time nor the attention to save these victims; the people have no means of helping them; raising funds for relief work has become an impossible task. There remains only one way. To accord relief to this year's flood sufferers in the North the Government has proposed to levy a Customs surtax which is estimated to yield $8,000,000 in a year. The Central Government is willing to do its utmost even to the victims of famine due to natural causes, how much more sympathetic it should be to the victims of famine due to the civil war. The people of Kiangsu and Chekiang would hardly dare hope for the whole of the proceeds of the Customs surtax but they pray for one-half of this money which would be of great help to them.

"If their prayer is answered they further request that the I. G. be instructed to turn over one-half of the surtax money collected every month to the Shanghai Chinese Foreign Famine Relief Committee, through the Shanghai Customs, for equitable distribution to the war victims of Kiangsu and Chekiang. For urgent requirements we trust the Government will permit the Shanghai Chinese Foreign Famine Relief Committee to negotiate advances from banks against the said one-half of the Customs surtax. We make this appeal in view of the urgency of the matter and shall be obliged if you will give it early and favorable consideration.

Daily Delivery of The China Press

To Our Regular Subscribers:

We have done all we could to deliver THE CHINA PRESS at your door in time for you to read it in bed before breakfast, if you wish; but to produce the highest efficiency and most regular service we feel that your cooperation is needed.

Occasionally one of our delivery coolies is forgetful or slack, and someone's morning paper is missing that day; or it is thrown down in the garden and spoilt by the rain. Whenever such cases are reported we take immediate steps to rectify the error and to discourage the offender from repeating it. But some cases, we feel sure, remain unreported, and we are asking you, if you have any cause for complaint, to fill up the printed form below and send it along to the Business Manager.

Kota Bahroe Rubber Estates

At the annual general meeting of the Kota Bahroe Rubber Estates held yesterday afternoon, the chairman addressed the meeting of shareholders as follows:

Gentlemen: The report and accounts having been in your hands for some days, I will, with your permission, follow the usual course and take them as read.

For the first time since the Company was reconstructed, the report this year contains comparative statistics of crops and costs of the Company's properties, and these, I am sure, will be found very interesting.

The total planted area remains the same as last year, viz: 1,600 acres, but 60 acres at Sikamat were brought into tapping during the year, bringing the total area under production to 1,301 acres. There are approximately 2,000 acres of reserve land for future development, but owing to the uncertainty of the industry, no extensions are in hand and none is contemplated at present.

The output for the year, based on an export allowance of 65 percent of standard production for the month of July and 60 percent for the remaining 11 months of the financial year, was 307,953 lbs. This is some 43,000 lbs. below last year's crop and is mainly responsible for the increased costs. With regard to Canning, I might say that the high cost per pound on this Estate is not only due to the lower crop obtained but also to the fact that 80 percent of general charges were debited to revenue although less than half the planted area is producing. The "all-in" cost for the year works out at 11.32d. as against 10.04d. for the previous year. In comparison with other estates, this may be considered very high but, as explained to you at previous meetings, it must be borne in mind that Kota Bahroe comprises four properties requiring the services of three European managers, this militating against cheap working costs. Efforts are still being made to dispose of our Sikamat property, but up till the present no suitable offers have been received.

No difficulty was experienced in obtaining the necessary crop to meet the restricted allowance; in fact, the position was so easy that not only were we able to adopt a conservative system of tapping, but it was also possible to rest many of the tasks where bark was thin or doubtful. All the properties have been kept in a clean weeded condition and costs under this heading show a satisfactory all-round reduction. The position as regards diseases is quite normal, and a good deal of useful work was done in clearing the estates of surface timber. We have ample labor for all present requirements, and the forces on the whole are well contented and healthy. A certain amount of success has been met with in respect to cover plants, particularly with Boga Medulla, which, apart from its soil conservancy functions, serves as a useful green manure when pruned. The estates have been regularly visited by Major G. Nevil Stevens, whose reports indicate that they are being well managed with all due regard to economy.

With regard to the accounts, these call for very little comment. The heavy loss incurred when the Company voluntarily suspended tapping in 1921 is gradually being reduced. The profit on this year's working amounted to Tls. 13,441.41, which, deducted from the amount of Tls. 38,263.15 brought forward from last year's accounts, leaves a sum of Tls. 24,821.74 standing at debit of profit and loss account, and if the present price of rubber is maintained, we should just about wipe out our deficit by the end of the financial year.

Taking advantage of the recent improved condition of the market, the Directors have made forward sales of 6 tons monthly October-December 1924 at 49 cents and 4 tons monthly January-December 1925 at 50 cents per pound.

Before concluding, I would like to take this opportunity of recording the Board's appreciation of the good work done by the respective Managers as well as those of Major C. Nevil Stevens, our visiting Agent.

That is all I have to say, gentlemen; if any shareholder has any questions to ask, I shall be pleased to answer to the best of my ability.

RESOLUTIONS

There being no questions, the following resolutions were submitted to the meeting and passed:

That the report and accounts for the year ended June 30, 1924, together with the recommendation as to appropriation of balance at debit of profit and loss account as presented, be accepted.

That the apointment of Mr. A. W. Burkill as a Director of the Company be confirmed.

That Mr. E. E. Trueman be re-elected a Director of the Company.

That Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews be re-elected auditors to the Company.

New High Record Set By American Silver Exports

New York, Aug. 23.—Trend in silver prices continues upward despite reactions on the August 9, when a considerable amount of Chinese shortcovering was completed. Monday of this week prices advanced on both London and Indian buying. Announcement of Germany's purchase of 4,000,000 ounces was made on August 14 and it is understood that an additional 20,000,000 will be taken by the same purchaser but this has had no immediate market influence. Silver stocks at Shanghai continue fairly high and this keeps an important consumer out of the market.

Our exports of silver in July amounted to $9,190,362 against $8,648,499 in June. For the 12 months ended with July, total exports were Y101,653,944 and imports, $76,960,811. This excess of $34,693,133 is the largest for any yearly period in the history of this country with the exception of the 1918-19 period when we were shipping our silver dollar reserve to India.

Imports increased in July from $4,870,389 to $7,127,613—and this was no doubt due to the release of larger amounts for export from Mexico. Average monthly imports are about $5,500,000.

For the first 7 months of this year excess exports amounted to $19,121,272. In this same period domestic production was about $22,300,000 (value) so that but $3,178,000 or about 2,200,000 ounces were available for domestic consumption.

In this 12 months' periods there was only one month in which exports did not exceed imports and then it amounted to but $408,511. Previously—before this 1923-24 movement started—excess imports have been the rule. In July of last year imports were $10,066,463 and exports but $6,223,163.

GERMANY'S SILVER PURCHASES

The sale of silver to Germany was arranged through the American Smelting & Refining, United States Smelting & Refining, Anaconda Copper Company and the American Metal companies. Procedure in this transaction was somewhat similar to that covering recent sales to the Polish government. The same companies participated in that transaction. It was reported that the 4,000,000 ounces were sold at a fixed price but the price was not stated.

Germany had on hand 24,000,000 ounces at the beginning of this year. Total coinage up to the end of June was said to hav been about $75,000,000 representing 24,000,000 ounces and it was reported that another $75,000,000 would be coined probably before the end of this year.

It is not known whether the Russian government is still buying silver through London. The original order was for 45,000,000 coins. Efforts of the Soviet government to arrange for credits against silver purchases in this country has been discouraged, it is understood, as a result of the attitude of the State Department.

SILVER DOLLARS AT WASHINGTON

It was reported from Washington this week that the Government was likely to adopt measures to popularise silver dollars and also to circulate a token,metallic, coin backed by silver. Cost of printing and distributing paper dollar bills is estimated at about 1½ cents each. As about 428,000,000 bills are printed yearly total cost is $6,420,000. An official at Washington was responsible for the token coin suggestion. He favors metallic coins that would be valued at a dollar in silver although they would be much smaller and lighter than the real silver dollar. The Treasury Department would hold in its vaults silver to the full value of the coins in circulation. Congressional action will be necessary before this proposal could be put into practice.

As to the actual benefit of these token coins to the silver industry, producers are of the opinion that it would educate the public into the use of metallic currency. For many years silver dollars have been a rarity in the East although they are still in general circulation in the West.

Last week the Federal Government paid, for the first time, all Washington employees in silver dollars. It is the understanding that this practice will be continued.

SHANGHAI MINT FUNDS READY

The 3,000,000 (Mexican) silver dollar loan for the completion and initial operation of the new mint at Shanghai is now ready, it is said. Shanghai bankers are advancing these funds according to Chang Kia Ngau, governor of the Bank of China.

INDIA'S LARGER GOLD IMPORTS

Equitable Eastern Banking Corp., shipped $100,000 in gold to India last week. Larger shipments from New York are expected during the next three months, India also secured about $1,980,000 gold in the London market last week. It is also importing direct from Durban, South Africa.

China Cotton

Messrs. Rosenfeld and Son, Inc., state in their report: Fluctuations in the cotton market during the past week have been within a rather narrow range of prices. Although trading was fairly active, operations were more of a professional than general character. Local mills seem to regard the present level of prices as offering little inducement to buy, considering that exports are at a standstill and the final outturn of the crop is more favorable than anticipated. The brilliant weather we have been having has more than helped the maturation of the late planting, and in consideration of that fact they have assumed a waiting attitude.

We, therefore, advise buying on any weak spots, taking moderate profits from time to time, as we still see no reason to expect any advances of consequence.

Yarn.—The yarn market during the past week has been practically steady with prices ruling nearly the same as compared with last week. Business for export has been booked, some 7,000 to 8,000 bales in all counts and about 3,000 bales direct booking with local mills is recorded.

Messrs. J. Spunt and Co. state in their report: Prices on the local staple during the greater portion of the week maintained a steady to firm position but evinced a weaker tendency toward the close by reason of fairly large arrivals from the interior and comparatively very little absorption by the mills in general and also weaker Sampin markets in the face of rising Mid-Americans.

The preceptibility of the better grades of Indian cotton approaching a parity with values of the local staple occupied with the encouraging prospects of a fair average final outturn of the domestic growth, is exerting a subtle influence in spinners to refrain from any large commitments for the time being or until such time as the political conditions in the country will ensure a safer distribution of their output. In the event of such policy pervading the domestic textile industries it is reasonable to expect weaker markets ensuing for the raw material before peace once more assumes its beneficent sway in this vast country.

Tone of the market: Weak.

BUILDER PREDICTS A SHIPBUILDING BOOM VERY SOON

Sir Alexander Kennedy Says Depression Is Swiftly Passing

Glasgow, August 9.—Sir Alexander Kennedy, whose firm, the Fairfield Company, recently launched the largest motor liner in the world, from Govan, near Glasgow, takes an encouraging view of the shipbuilding situation.

Speaking to a representative of The Christian Science Monitor, he expressed the belief that the corner of the unparalleled shipbuilding depression had already been turned.

Industrial depression, he continued, frequently involved industrial strife. The times had brought heavy loss to the employers and hardship to many of the workers. He had personally a great deal of sympathy with the aspirations of the workers to achieve a higher standard of living conditions than formerly. Although he considered that the employers would have been quite justified in refusing the recent arbitration with the unions, he was personally of the opinion that it had been worth risking because he felt strongly that it rested on all concerned in the shipbuilding industry to find a basis for mutual co-operation and joint endeavor. At the same time the recent award of the Industrial Court of 7 percent increase to the men could only be possible if there were a period of stability and peace. Wages were essentially bound up with the question of output. The worker on his side has to realise that no industry could either create or maintain standards of living merely because they were desirable, unless that industry, like everyone else, had to face the task of making both ends meet. Shipbuilding prices had reached rock bottom, and the builders could not go on incurring such heavy losses in an endeavor to revive the industry. Prosperity could only come through hard work and settled conditions.

Sir Alexander views the development of motor power as promise for the future. The recently launched Aorangi is a motor liner of 20,000 tons. Much of the shipping at present laid up was not up to modern standards, and of the world's tonnage, figures at Lloyd showed that almost a quarter was nearing 20 years of age. New and improved tonnage would be needed to replace it. Shipbuilders at least could not be accused of being disregardful of their customers' needs. He felt convinced that shipowners could soon take a more hopeful view of the future and make ready to enter the world markets again as soon as opportunity offered.

We have been carrying on our business for more than thirty years and have been enjoying the confidence and commendation of the public. We are selling the coals of the best Chinese coal mines, such as, Dah Doong Coal, Ching Hsing Coal, Chung Hsing Coal, Tung Woo Coal, Houchi Coal, Liu Ho Kow Coal as well as Saghaline Coal. The Shanghai-Hangchow-Ningpo Railway, Compagnie des Messageries Maritimes, and Italian, American, French and Chinese Warships, Cotton Mills and other industrial factories have been purchasing great quantities of coal from us, and our annual sale amounts to over 200,000 tons.

Our coal is best selected and at moderate prices, and consumers may rely on us in obtaining the right kind of coal as named on their order. We are well versed in the qualities of the various coals suitable for different boilers.

Orders from foreign warships are especially welcome. It is understood that warships used to purchase coal from the merchants who are not belonging to the coal trade and who obtain their coal after passing many hands. These merchants do not understand what is the right coal for warships, who are liable to be cheated by these merchants. Such practices bring serious damage to the names of our Chinese coal mines.

We are doing business on thoroughly honest basis in a measure to preserve the name of our Chinese coals as well as to push our business. We guarantee the satisfaction of foreign steamships who may place orders with us. Sufficient stock of the coals is always available to meet our customers' demands, either for temporary order or for yearly contract. Please write or telephone us and our representative will call on you.

Weather Reports

Oct. 2.—The anticycline is central over Nippon. The Pacific Ocean depression is threatening Northern Luzon and the Ballintang Channel while inclining WNW'ward. The Guam typhoon is continuing NW'wards. S'ly to E'ly breezes over our regions and over the Yellow Sea. Fresh N'Ely winds over the Eastern Sea and in the Formosa Strait. Cloudy but fine weather in China. Rough weather to the East of Luzon. Snow at Irkoutsk.

Oct. 3.—Cloudy, fine but very damp weather. Very heavy dew. The breeze is veering to the SE. Almost and steady pressure.

Oct. 4.—Damp weather with mist or local showers, unsteady breezes in the North and over the Yellow Sea. Freshening E'ly winds over our coasts and over the Eastern Sea. Rough weather over the Northern China Sea, because of the typhoon threatening to pass by Southern Formosa, towards the Prats. The Guam typhoon will raise rough weather to the S-E of the Loochoos, while travelling N-W wards.

No Sovereignty Without Responsibility

THE Chinese delegation to the Assembly of the League of Nations has just communicated a statement at Geneva expressing "the Asiatic disappointment and sense of crying injustice" at not being represented on the Council. The statement recalls the recommendation of the Assembly relative to the geographical principle in the distribution of the six non-permanent seats on the Council. It expresses the opinion that this disregard and neglect of Asia's legitimate rights may injure the League of Nations and says that the responsibility certainly cannot fall on Asia or the Asiatic States "if that Continent or the greater part of it begins to disinterest itself in the work of the League."

That is certainly a bitter statement to make, and the trouble appears to have been caused by the fact that before the Assembly closed following what must be regarded as a historic session, Uruguay, Brazil, Czecho-Slovakia, Spain, Belgium and Sweden were elected non-permanent members of the Council, whereupon the Chinese delegation left the hall in a body. The fact that the least of the South American Republics should be accorded a seat on the Council where China has failed to obtain a place for herself is unquestionably a bitter pill to swallow for the Chinese delegation, but it may well be asked: whose fault is it? The acerbity of the statement issued by the Chinese delegates shows how completely out of touch they are with foreign thought in relation to China.

If the failure of China to secure a seat on the Council of the League of Nation shows anything, it shows a grave loss of Chinese prestige in the councils of the world by reason of the persistent refusal of China's officials to put patriotism above pelf and power. It is the inevitable price of chaos and civil strife. The Chinese delegates who left the hall of the Assembly in such high dudgeon doubtless felt that their country should have had precedence over such small States as Uruguay, Brazil, Czecho-Slovakia, Spain, Belgium and Sweden, but these States, though small in size, represent a much higher stage of political advancement than that of China, and it should not be surprising if the latter now finds herself out of the running in the race of nations. In fact, it is not easy to understand how any other result could have been expected than that which has actually taken place in the Assembly of the League. It is a tacit indictment of Chinese disunion and official misrule and corruption in this country. And it is just as much of an arraignment of Peking, as of Mukden and Canton and Shanghai and those other parts of China where a fratricidal struggle is now being witnessed. In short, it is difficult to see how China can be given a voice in the affairs of the world, implied by the possession of a seat on the Council of the League, when she has failed to set her own house in order. Until there is such an entity as a unified China, her delegates at Geneva cannot seriously hope to be given a seat on the Council.

There is one passage in the statement of the Chinese delegation that suggests a distorted view of the whole matter. The threat is made that "Asia may begin to disinterest herself in the work of the League" because China has failed to obtain a place on the League Council." That is rather a broad distinction to make in view of the fact that Japan is exerting an active influence in the League, and we believe that India also is not apathetic toward the deliberations of the League. So far as China is concerned, there appears to be no danger of her disinteresting herself in the work of the League for the simple reason that her officials have never really taken an active interest in that work any more than they have carried out the spirit of the Washington Conference, from which China got so much and gave so little. In fact, there has been so little disposition on the part of Chinese officialdom to adhere to the spirit of the Washington Conference and the League of Nations that we are witnessing today the extraordinary spectacle of Chinese slaying their own brothers at the very moment that Europe is hurrying her footsteps along the ways of peace. The cry of Chinese sovereignty is often invoked when the question of foreign extra-territorial rights is raised, but what is overlooked is the important fact that the enjoyment of sovereign privileges implies corresponding sovereign obligations, and in the discharge of her sovereign obligations, both toward Chinese and foreigners and toward her own people, the various "Governments" in China have lamentably failed. The rebuff just administered to China's delegates at Geneva may be taken by them as a clear hint that the Powers are not satisfied with the way things are being done in this country, and if China's representatives abroad take the trouble to impress on their officials here—both the "ins" and the "outs"—what an incalculable harm is being done to Chinese prestige in the eyes of the world by the perpetuation of present conditions, they will have rendered a greater service to their country than all the glowing fairy tales to which China's silver-tongued orator at Geneva resorts from time to time to befuddle the trusting and credulous European. There can be no sovereignty without responsibility, either in the case of China or any other country under the sun. If China today is denied a seat on the League Council, she has no one to thank but herself.

American Loans And Japanese Policy Toward China

ONE of the publications in Shanghai, commonly reputed to be sympathetic with the Japanese point of view, reported recently that during the past year American financiers have loaned to Japanese interests a total of G.$200,000,000 and that a considerable portion of this money has found its way into China. This was particularly true according to the above source of information, of one loan of G.$10,000,000 to the Oriental Development Company, which is primarily interested in Northern Chinese business. The most recent loan placed in Japan by American financiers, that of G.$22,000,000 to the Industrial Bank of Japan, Ltd., also in all probabilities was destined for China for the reason that the Industrial Bank of Japan headed the Japanese syndicate, including the Band of Taiwan, Bank of Chosen and the Hypothec Bank, which in 1918 advanced to China more than yen 100,000,000. These loans which are now in default are popularly known in China as the "Nishihara" loans and an attempt has been made to repudiate them by Peking on the grounds that they were made to the so-called Anfu Government, which Peking now claims was an "illegal" Government.

An unusual feature of the loan of G.$22,000,000 to the Industrial Bank of Japan, referred to in the foregoing, is a clause in the loan agreement guaranteeing that the bonds will be paid in time of war as well as in peace irrespective of the nationality of the holder of the bonds. This clause in a loan agreement is unique in the annals of international finance and was inserted on account of apprehension felt in the United States that a war may break out at some future date between the United States and Japan. This loan was made, it is interesting to note, quite soon after the passage by the U. S. Congress of legislation barring Japanese immigration from the United States.

The foregoing information regarding extensive American financing of Japan since the earthquake of a year ago is of particular interest today because of the effect it may have upon Japanese policy toward China in view of the present internal strife in this country. There are arguments on both sides of the question as to just what effect these loans will have on American policy toward China. There is one school, represented largely by Americans resident in China and largely led by missionary opinion, that these American loans to Japan will have a tendency toward causing the United States to condone Japanese attempts at aggression or interference in China's internal political affairs. These various loans which have been placed by American financiers in Japan, have been issued through extensive bond sales to American investors. As a result of this, many thousands of private citizens in the United States who now own Japanese bonds may be expected to take a very deep interest in the welfare of Japan, and to turn the argument around the other way, these owners of Japanese bonds in the United States are not likely to look with favor upon any movement in China which might disturb the financial or business equilibrium of Japan.

On the other side of the question there are those, who include the powerful financial and business leaders in the United States, who argue that the lending of large sums of money to Japan is bound to give the United States a considerable voice in the affairs of Japan. This is inevitable, for the reason that the man or nation holding the purse-strings always has a great deal to say regarding the activities of the man or nation which owes the money. Following the argument along this line, it is maintained that the chief interest of the influential commercial and financial interests in the United States will be directed to the end of promoting peace in the Orient not only between the United States and Japan, but also between Japan and China.

Which side of the above arguments is in the right is difficult to say, but definite proof may be available soon in American reaction toward the present conflict in North China. Japan, while holding to her announced policy of neutrality, has let it be known in no indefinite terms that she will not look lightly upon anything which might disturb her investments in Manchuria. Of the millions of American money which have come into China through Japanese agencies, it may be safe to say that probably ninety per cent. of it has gone into Manchuria. Therefore American investors in Japanese bonds will watch carefully what takes place in the next few days and weeks in that important area. Where a man's money is, there his heart is also, goes the old saying: therefore a considerable number of Americans now have their hearts very close to the empire ruled over by General Chang Tso-lin. Wu Pei-fu evidently senses this situation, for he has issued several statements to the press denying any intention of interfering with foreign interests in Manchuria. He knows full well that any attempt to interfere with Japanese interests in Manchuria might bring some form of Japanese intervention, and that the Powers, otherwise the United States and Great Britain, might be likely to maintain a hands-off policy, if not actually supporting Japan in any move to protect the peace of that important section of China. From a general standpoint, General Wu has not had a reputation for undue friendliness toward Japan, while on the other hand General Chang Tso-lin has had the reputation of being quite triendly toward Japan and by many Chinese is thought to be receiving Japanese unofficial support.

In summarising the situation in the Far East produced by the extensive lending of American money to Japan, it should be noted that all of this money has been advanced since the Washington Conference and presumably with the approval of the State Department. Almost immediately after the close of the Washington Conference, Secretary Hughes issued a statement advising American bankers to keep the Government informed of all foreign loans in contemplation for the reason that the lending of private American capital abroad might produce situations adversely affecting traditional American policies in various parts of the world. Since it has become the custom in these days of modern international finance for bankers to rely upon governmental support in the collection of foreign debts, therefore the Government is on sound ground in requiring bankers, as far as possible, to obtain governmental approval before floating private loans.

In view of the fact that the United States Government took the lead in the deliberations of the Washington Conference, which brought into being the Nine-Power Treaty guaranteeing the political, administrative and territorial integrity of China, it may be assumed that the American Government will also exercise influence upon American business and finance that nothing may be done directly or indirectly to interfere with the letter or spirit of this treaty. We do not believe that the traditional American policy of the Open Door can be easily twisted into a condonation of Japanese aggressions or interference in the affairs of China in connection with the present conflict. At any rate we shall see—what we shall see.

The lending of G. $200,000,000 of American money to Japan has given America and Americans a new interest in the affairs of Asia which did not exist previously. This places a great responsibility upon the United States in the working out of its diplomatic policies in this part of the world—and it also places a very great responsibility upon the American citizen residing in the Orient for the reason that the Government of the United States must depend largely upon its own citizens in the Orient, private citizens as well as officials, for information regarding the trend of affairs in this quarter of the globe.

LIFE A TIGHT-ROPE WALK

The path of life is a narrow ridge between two insanities. Living a sane, normal, healthy life is like walking the tight-rope. When he looks over to one side, a man see chasms, sickening depths, the terrifying unknown. On the other side is the same.

It is a very proper expression we use when we say of a man that he is "unbalanced" Sanity is simply equilibrium.

How few people can gaze squarely into the emptiness of Death, that vast bottomless pit, and not feel panic! As few as they who can climb peaks, steeples, and masts, and keep their head.

How few people can regard God, the overpowering infinite, and not clutch at some idol, as a man falling down a precipice grasps at roots and vines! We must, for our weakness, replace the dazzling mystery of God by some little, comfortable, painted superstition. A bit of hocus-pocus, a sign, a formula, a venerable and empty symbol—anything is better than the shattering reality! We cherish our petty artificial certainties, our plaster credences, because we cannot understand how the trust of all truths may be an Uncertainty. No; that way madness lies, except for a few.

Let us pray for Head, for poise, for the sound stomach, and solid brain, and strong-pounding heart, so that we can walk dizzy edges happily, feel easy in the dark, look fearlessly into the gulfs that pull weaker men, kiss Death sweetly on the mouth when our call comes, and breast the thunders of afterwards unafraid. Let no vertigo rob us of God.

When a man comes to your office to sell you something, how do you treat him?

Make him feel like an interloper or a hireling whom you would avoid?

Or do you treat him like a gentlemen, in a courteous manner refusing his offers if you think it best for you.

It is not necessary to buy to be a gentleman.

A salesman should have a chance. You want a chance, do you not?

If you are in business you have something to sell, either service or goods and you expect courtesy.

Because it is not necessary for you to go out personally to sell your service or goods you need not treat the man who must introduce himself that way as if he were a tramp or a fake.

The man or the woman who cannot be gracious in refusing to buy acknowledges a weak spot in the character.

Usually it is fear which leads to rudeness.

Sometimes it is ignorance of how else to refuse.

Which class do you wish to set yourself in?

Learn to be polite even when firmly refusing to buy.

AFTER TALKING WITH MARSHAL WU

Editor, The China Press:

Sir:—Those in authority in China know well that the aim of the International Institute of China, of the International Journal and of the writer has been the peace of China, harmony between China and the rest of the world, and thereby the happiness of mankind. Whether it has been strife between China's factional leaders, or the Great War in Europe, or the war in China of the first revolution, or any other kind of human warfare, it is something which in my heart I cannot approve. But lately the President of China has issued a Mandate declaring that Generals Lu, Ho and Chang are in a state of rebellion to the Central Government and must be suppressed by military force and so bring about unification, an end to be attained through force of arms.

A few days ago, in meeting Marshal Wu Pei-fu at two different times, (once in private conversation), he clearly stated that his great determination was to settle up completely the whole war situation in China, with no more compromising, and that the settlement must be so thorough as to be final. I merely added that if the war could be thus fought to a finish, with the assurance of no further strife, this I desired. I only hoped that, after the war, real peace would come quickly. As to peace, I would always give it my support: as to this present warfare, I would stand to one side.

I have been in China over forty years, but I confess that I do not understand the Chinese. Their method of waging war is so different from that in other lands, that foreigners and even foreign Governments would do well not to intrude into the strife until peace dawns and China is again on the heights. One thing is clear—that China should have one strong Government, the provinces not arrayed against the Government or against each other, but all the five races united in the one Republic. If China can attain to this position, all peoples will greatly rejoice.

In general, I can say that as to the war itself, the International Journal here will have no opinions to express, but as to peace and good-will it will continue to take an interest. During the World War where the Allied Powers joined in urging China to take sides with them and enter the fray, I, a private individual, did my best to advise China to keep away from the strife. I was made to suffer in consequence. In this present strife in China I am inclined to offer no advice one way or the other, as to who is right and who is wrong, but I will beseech High Heaven to send down peace and happiness upon this distressed land.

More Truth Than Poetry

BY S. E. KISER

A PARROT'S PRIVATE OPINION

What silly things most people say;
They seem to have no brains at all;
I'll hear upon my dying day
The childish old one: "Pretty Poll!"
No cracker ever tempted me,
I've never said I wanted one;
How stupid people seem to be—
They have no new ideas—none!

They come and poke me on my beak,
Then leap away, beyond my reach;
The pigeon English that they speak
Would make a ring-tailed monkey screech;
Their baby talk gets on my nerve;
I hate their bold impertinence;
They lack refinement and reserve,
And wander far from common sense.

I very often am inclined
To sit upon my perch and think,
But always some one with a mind
Fit for a weasel or a mink
Is sure to ask me questions I've
Been asked a million times before;
It's no sweet thing to be alive
And in the presence of a bore.

I've long since ceased to wonder why
Men like sometimes to be alone;
For, candidly, I'll tell you, I
Compare their feelings to my own.
The world would soon become sublime,
And serious troubles would be few
If senseless talk were made a crime,
And proper silence got its due.

DRESS

By Mary Marshall

The Tunic Blouse and the Tunic Frock are Well Chosen for Autumn Wardrobes

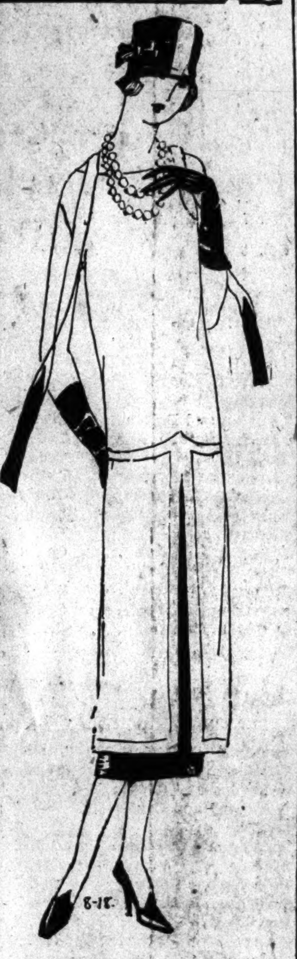
A young woman who was busying herself with the preparation of her college wardrobe wrote asking to know about the "advanced fashions for fall." The idea of course was that the frocks she was making or having made or buying ready made at the time were not going to be worn until the last of September or the first of October—and would have to do for several months thereafter, so she wanted to make sure that they were of the fashion that is to be, rather than of the fashion that is.

What is best under such circumstances often is to avoid the possible "advanced fashions." Of ten new fashion ideas of the present time two—let us say—will survive for cool weather. And no one really knows which are the two and which are the eight will shrivel up and be discarded. But of the fashions already established there are a great many that will surely survive—and for the women who must buy now for autumn and winter the best thing to do is to take one of the smartest modes of the already accepted fashion and make use of that.

The tunic idea is not now—yet at the recent openings in Paris the tunic was spoken of as one of the most important feature of the frocks shown. The close-fitting tunic that is split at the front and worn over a straight tight foundation will surely remain in good style for many months to come.

The sketch shows a split tunic of red worn over a black satin slip, which makes a striking costume but one that is sure to look as well four or five months from now as it does at the present time.

The matter of skirt lengths and skirt breadths no longer seems to be a question. Skirts are for the time being at least decidedly shorter that they were six months ago and, whether you like them or not, straight scant skirt are the rule.



Red tunic worn over tight black satin slip. The tunic is slashed in front.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

WHEN YOU SHOP

Remember when you go shopping that your success or failure depends on whether or not you get what you want at the price you want. Salesmanship may be worth a lot to the man who owns and operates the stores but it isn't worth anything to you, unless it helps you to get what you want.

You are not a good shopper unless you can keep a distinct vision before you of what you want. If you go shopping to get a navy blue suit for autumn and come back with a white frock for summer you have not been a wise shopper, and you will probably regret your purchase.

The wise shopper isn't greatly affected by the personality of the salesman. If the man at the silk counter happens to be little absent minded or even discourteous, don't be foolish enough to let that stand in the way of your purchase. The good salesman puts the purchaser in a good humor and gets her to buy what he has for sale. So too, the good purchaser puts the salesman in a good humor and get him to sell her what she wants to buy. Don't show yourself so easily defeated as to go away without seeing what you went after. It is the salesperson's business to show you his wares. Sometimes it seems as if salespeople are obstacles standing in the way of customers and merchandise. But such salespeople ought to be cobbling shoes, or peeling onions or painting houses or hoeing potatoes—not selling goods behind a counter.

FASHION FLASHES

While flesh colored stockings continue in fashion, and very sheer black stockings have appeared on the scene, and grays and browns are considered very good—it also happens that some of the welldressed younger women are following the fashion of having stockings to match their frocks exactly. A bright green frock will be worn with bright green stockings—with black or brown or even white shoes.

What The Chinese Papers Are Saying

Peking, Oct. 2.—An official report says that Chi Hsieh-yuan will take a rest for three days before launching another general offensive against Kiating and Huangtu. Sixteen regiments of Shantung, Honan, Hupeh, Kiangsu and Anhwei troops will participate in the onslaught, the third one since the outbreak.—Shun Pao.

Peking, Oct. 2.—Tien Hsien-chang, representing Chi Hsieh-yuan, has arrived in Peking. In his report on the war, he alleged that for six times, Chi was the object of bombing by Chekiang airplanes. Every time the explosive landed within ten feet of him. Wu Pei-fu has sent Chi a telegram of encouragement in view of the bravery of the Nanking Tuchun, and urged him not be proceed too close to the danger zone in the future.—Shun Pao.

Harbin, Oct. 2.—The Russian Consulate was officially opened today. A number of Chinese officials in Harbin called at the consulate and offered their congratulations.—Shun Pao.

Peking, Oct. 2.—The Kiangsu residents in Peking have filed a petition with the government demanding damages sustained as the result of the war. The petition stated that the war had ravaged the cities of Quinsan, Taitsang, Kiating, Paoshan, Sungkiang and Shanghai. Therefore the governor should be instructed to prepare for reparation out of the revenues collected for national taxes. Claims should be considered by the magistrates of the cities together with the public organisation and be satisfied out of the national treasury.—Sin Wan Pao.

Peking, Oct. 2.—An official communique from Wu Pei-fu states that the Cruiser Hai Chi has bagged a Fengtien plane.—Sin Wan Pao.

Peking, Oct. 2.—Wu Pei-fu's headquarters have ordered the completion of 200,000 fur-lined coats to be delivered along the front within one month.—Sin Wan Pao.

Peking, Oct. 2.—The Cabinet gave a banquet last night. The seat of honor was occupied by M. L. Karakhan. Other guests were the ministers from Germany, Denmark, Norway and Sweden, Brazil and Mexico. Another banquet was given tonight with the British Minister occupying the seat of honor. Other ministers who attended included the envoys from the United States, France, Japan, Italy and Belgium.—Sin Wan Pao.

Peking, Oct. 2.—At last night's banquet given by the Cabinet, M. L. Karakhan arrived half an hour late. He was drawn to another room by Wu Pei-fu, who requested him not to assist Mukden in the present conflict.—Sin Wan Pao.

Tientsin, Oct. 2.—It is reported that the Navy's anti-aircraft gun bagged a Mukden airplane at the Chuhua Island, capturing one Russian and one Japanese pilot and three Chinese passengers.—Sin Wan Pao.

Peking, Oct. 2.—Under today's date, General Pan Shou-hsin wired to say that the Cruiser Hai Chi yesterday bombarded the enemy at Shanhaikwan and assisted the landing party in advancing from Mengchiang Temple to Erhlungcheng Temple.—Eastern Times.

Peking, Oct. 2.—A surprise naval attack is being planned by Wu Pei-fu against Mukden. A large number of merchant vessels are being commandeered for this purpose.—Eastern Times.

Peking, Oct. 2.—A joint motor transport corps is being organised by the Second, Third and Fourth Chihli Army. In addition to the 390 car already possessed or commandeered by Feng Yu-hsiang's division, 107 more have been purchased from the Mei Li Firm in Tientsin, which are new and suitable for military use.—Eastern Times.

Peking, Oct. 2.—A mandate is being drafted to appoint Liu Shih-yu, Chief of the Constabulary at Woosung and Shanghai.—Eastern Times.

Canton, Oct. 1.—General Chen Chiung-ming will shortly issue a circular telegram, casting his lot with the Northern Expedition. He has already declare that he would not at this time conduct any counter-attack against Tungkiang, but would try to stop Hung Jao-ling and Ling Hu from continuing on their hostilities. Chen has not occupied Sheklung, following the evacuation of Dr. Sun's forces from Shektai. Sheklung is being guarded by merchant volunteers.—Republican Daily News.

Canton, Oct. 1.—Mr. Hsu Shih-yin called on Dr. Sun Yat-sen today and presented him with an autographed letter from Marshal Tuan Chi-jui, in which the plan for a joint expedition against Chihli was set forth.—Republican Daily News.

Peking, Oct. 1.—Wu Pei-fu has ordered the mayor of Chang Li to construct a motor road between his city and Shanhaikwan, a distance of 30 li, within three days.—Republican Daily News.

Peking, Oct. 2.—Wu Pei-fu has ordered Admiral Tu Shih-kwei to instruct Commander Li Ching-hsi to bring the Cruiser Hai Yung and the gunboats Nan Shun, Chu Yu, Chu Chien, Kiang Yuan, Kiang Kung, Li Tung, Li Shui, Hai Au and his two torpedo boats to Chinwangtao to be placed under the command of Admiral Wen Shu-teh.—Shanghai Tribune.

Peking, Oct. 1.—Wang Yung-pao, new minister to Tokio, and Kwei Shou-chu, new Educational Commissioner, will leave here for Tientsin on the 5th and proceed to their posts on the 7th.—Shanghai Tribune.

Victoria To Speed Up Quarantine As Aid To Ship Lines

The silk importers of New York and shipping people of Seattle are greatly pleased over the report from Victoria, B.C., that the Federal Deputy Minister of Health has recommended that the quarantine station at William Head on Vancouver Island operated 24 hours daily, thus obviating serious delays to trans-pacific liners.

The Admiral-Oriental Line will be the principal gainer by this change. Steamers of this company carry silk cargo ranging in value from five to ten million dollars on each trip. Because of the high rates and interest charges on this commodity the silk is rushed through from Yokohama to the waiting transcontinental trains at Seattle with the utmost speed. Even minutes are held to be precious and consequently a delay of six or seven hours at the quarantine station is not viewed with pleasure by the company.

Under the present regulations if a liner reaches William Head after 9 p.m. at night she is forced to lay over until morning, meaning the loss of many valuable hours. By the proposed new regulation a vessel could reach William Head at 11 p.m., secure pratique, discharge passengers and cargo at Victoria and arrive in Seattle before sunrise. In this way silk cargoes would gain many hours on the run to New York and New Jersey silk mills. It would also enable passengers to spend the day in Seattle sightseeing and leaving that night for their eastern destinations.

B.W.A. Notes

The Hospital Aid Department of the British Women's Association has to acknowledge with warm thanks the gift of 800 yards of cloth from Mr. G. Okada of the Nagai Wata Kaisha, for use in their work for the Chinese Red Cross.

A further supply of hospital necessaries has been despatched to the Red Cross Headquarters in Avenue Haig. This includes 400 bandages, 126 swabs, 20 dozen gauze pads, 26 dozen absorbent pads, 1 roll of gauze, 13 pieces of cotton sheeting (520 yards); 10 bolts of gauze, $15.00 worth of cotton wool, and a bundle of old linen.

The Chinese Y.W.C.A. also sent 80 coats and 70 pairs of trousers to the B.W.A. for transmission to Red Cross Headquarters.

MUKDEN SEIZES COASTAL SHIPS; SERVICE HALTS

Embargo Placed On Voyages To Manchurian Coast By Chefoo Firms

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tsingtao, Sept. 29.—As a sequel to the commandeering of two Chinese merchant vessels recently at Yingkow in Southern Manchuria the steamship lines operating in Chefoo have placed a strict embargo on voyages to that coast.

The two vessels, it is alleged, were boarded and seized by Marshal Chang Tso-lin's agents and nothing has been heard of them since. To avoid any further seizures the steamship companies decided on this drastic step and as a consequence trade at Chefoo is paralyzed.

Chefoo, on the north shore of the Shantung peninsula, and directly across from Dairen in South Manchuria has a lively and lucrative trade with that city and the embargo means the enforced suspension of many import and export firms in the two cities. Chefoo is especially hard hit and firms by the score have shut their doors. Naturally retail businesses are seriously affected through inability to receive their customary imports from Manchuria. As far as foodstuffs are concerned, however, agricultural Shantung can supply all needs and there is little likelihood of a food shortage.

Peking Again Asks Leave To Borrow On German Bonds

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, Oct. 2.—The Ministry of Finance has of late approached Sir Francis Aglen and asked him to undertake exchequer bonds, to the value of $4,200,000, on the German bonds already redeemed, which are based on the Tientsin-Pukow Railway, to be employed as military funds. In reply, Sir Francis Aglen is alleged to have stated that he was unable to undertake them on his own account on the ground that the case referred to is connected with Salt Gabelle, and has referred the case to Sir Ernest Wilton, Associate Chief-Inspector and Adviser to the Central Salt Administration.

Accordingly, Marshal Wu Pei-fu today interviewed Sir Ernest Wilton and personally conferred with him in this respect.
